Add A Stamp Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department, anticipating a heavy demand for one-cent stamps when the cost of mailing a letter jumps to six cents Sunday, says it has 1.4 billion penny stamps on hand to help Americans use up their five-cent stamps.

The Post Office began stockpiling one-cent stamps last September when Congress started considering the department's proposal to hike the cost of mailing a letter from five to six cents—the third postal-rate increase in 10 years.

The department also has been working around the clock producing six-cent stamps—all bearing the profile of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It has about four billion of these.

But the early demand is expected to be for penny stamps since there probably will be lots of fives still around when the rates go up Sunday.

Most of the 1.4 billion one-cent stamps—green and bearing a picture of Andrew Jackson—are stored in an auditorium at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington. The department also has a few smaller stockpiles strategically located in five other cities: San Francisco, Dallas, Cincinnati, Chicago and New York.

The Post Office's Bureau of Facilities estimates the department will need about two billion one-cent stamps to meet the needs of customers when the postal hike takes effect. To meet the demand, a spokesman said, government printers are "working 24 hours a day, shipping seven days a week—and we don't anticipate any shortages."

The Post Office also is issuing a new one-cent stamp Jan. 12 with a picture of Thomas Jefferson on it.

Six cents' postage will be required on letters postmarked Jan. 7. Letters postmarked later and bearing only five cents postage will not be returned to the sender, but will be forwarded to the addressee—possibly accompanied by a request for one-cent postage due.

Postal officials were not certain whether all letters carriers will demand the penny postage due on all letters postmarked Sunday and bearing only five cents postage. One official suggested it might cost the Post Office more than it will receive just to collect the penny due on all letters.

Here are the new rates:
First-class letters will go up from 5 to 6 cents an ounce; airmail letters from 8 to 10 cents an ounce; postal cards from 4 to 5 cents each; airmail cards from 6 to 8 cents each.

Second-class mail rates—mostly newspapers and magazines—will be increased about 24 percent. Bulk third-class mail—mostly advertising circulars—will go up 34 percent.

The increases will yield about $900 million a year in additional revenue.

THIS IS THE DESIGN of the new six cent postage stamp to become available on Jan. 24. (AP Wirephoto)

'Honest Mistakes: We'd Do It Again!'

Guards Erred In Rioting: Simmons

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The retiring commander of Michigan's National Guard says his troops made "honest mistakes" in Detroit's July riot, but adds, "If I had to do it over again, I would handle the situation just as I did."

Maj. Gen. Cecil L. Simmons retired Jan. 1 after 34 years in the guard, the last five as commander of the 46th Infantry Division.

His troops were criticized in the press and by regular Army Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, commander of U.S. paratroops sent to help quell the week-long riot, for their performance under riot conditions.

Simmons, 55, said that with new training in riot control, instituted shortly after the riot, that "the Guard is more capable of handling the situation."

But he said the Guard's equipment still is outdated.

"We made requests for improved weaponry and communications immediately after the riots to the Defense Department and the National Guard Bureau," he said, "but have not received them." He said some equipment used by the Guard in Detroit was World War II vintage.

Simmons said he was accused at one point of delaying the dispatching of federal troops into the Detroit riot area.

"I was on the scene. I toured the area on the ground and from an airplane. Early Monday (the day after the riots broke out) I got two calls from Washington, asking me to give my estimates of the situation," Simmons said.

"I said we could handle the situation if it didn't worsen," Simmons said the guard was responsible at the time for maintaining order in a 139 square mile area.

He said one of the callers, a high Army officer in the Pentagon, told him that Gov. George Romney had requested federal troops, but if Simmons said they weren't needed perhaps Romney should be told to hold off on his request.

"I told him (the caller) that I, personally, was not going to tell the governor any such thing, and that if the governor asked for soldiers he'd better send them," Simmons said.

Simmons, a solidly built 200-pounder on a 6-foot-2 frame, currently is full time traffic engineer for the City of Grand Rapids, a position he has held since 1958.

Simmons said he has suggested the use of a group of highly trained sharpshooters in future riot control, a group able to move rapidly from one trouble spot to another.

Guardsmen now are trained in the use of special guns to fire tear gas pellets into buildings and to respect the search and seizure rights of private citizens, Simmons pointed out.

Simmons said he believed the Detroit riots could have been contained by the Detroit police if they had been given the authority to arrest the troublemakers at the start of the rioting.

He said the Guard, as long as two years before the riots, had developed a plan of action for Detroit and other major cities in Michigan in preparation for civil disturbances. He said the Detroit plan was revised less than two months before the riots broke out.

Legislature May Get Crime Bill

LANSING (AP) — The problem of crime and riots may be added to the already heavy agenda of controversial issues facing the Michigan Legislature in 1968.

The lawmakers already have before them bills on open housing—defeated by the House of Representatives in a special session in December—and lower court reorganization.

Now the governor's commission on crime has asked that its recommendations in a 40-page report issued Wednesday be submitted to the Legislature for action.

Acting Gov. William Milliken, who accepted the report for Gov. George Romney on the eve of his return from his world tour, declined to predict what action the governor would take.

At least three of the recommendations made by the 57-member citizens group would be certain to generate considerable heat if they emerged in the legislative session which begins Jan. 10.

But two other items, also controversial and also frequently urged by war-on-crime advocates, were noticeably absent from the commission's report.

The group, appointed by Romney in July 1966 as "another weapon in this armory of defenses" against crime, Wednesday called for new laws which would:

—Permit police, with circuit court permission, to use electronic eavesdropping devices in probing cases involving organized crime or corruption of public officials.

—Allow a county prosecutor, again by petitioning a circuit court, to grant immunity to witnesses in criminal cases and compel them to testify about self-incriminating matters.

—Revive the system under which all judicial vacancies in courts of record would be filled by appointment of the governor.

Missing from the list of 25 commission recommendations were "stop and frisk" and subpoena powers for prosecutors.

Cong Pursued After Raids On Three Bases

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen today pursued North Vietnamese troops that tried to overrun three American bases near Da Nang, and the Communist death toll in South Vietnam's five northern provinces climbed to at least 400 since the New Year's truce ended Tuesday.

The North Vietnamese kept up heavy machine gun fire at American helicopters moving troops and supplies into the Que Son Valley south of Da Nang. One helicopter was shot down today, making a total of five downed in two days. The crew was rescued, and U.S. fighter-bombers tried to knock out the enemy guns.

Brig. Gen. Charles Ryder, assistant commander of the Americal Division, said his troops killed "about 300" enemy troops, including 241 in attempts to seize Landing Zones Ross and Leslie in the valley about 25 miles southwest of Da Nang. The other attack Wednesday was against nearby Landing Zone West.

Ryder said he believes the North Vietnamese "may be regrouping and I fully expect them to continue the attack."

U.S. officers said Communist plans for the assaults on the Que Son bases had been captured from the body of a North Vietnamese regimental commander killed Dec. 8 on a reconnaissance mission.

"Many documents indicated the North Vietnamese were planning to overrun the bases," Ryder said.

Example Of Integrity World's Need: Romney

DETROIT (AP) — Presidential hopeful Gov. George Romney, back from his four-week, 12-nation global tour, says "the world desperately needs an example of national integrity."

A declared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, Romney told newsmen and the 200 placard-waving well-wishers who met him at the Detroit airport: "There is an excessive cynicism and discontent across the globe."

"American leadership must help replace it with vision and vitality," said Romney, who leaves next week to open his campaign in the New Hampshire presidential primary.

The Michigan governor, who spent Christmas in Vietnam, said the war there "is the single most consuming issue throughout the world."

Wouldn't Drop War
Pledging that there would be no abandonment of South Vietnam if elected, Romney said in the weeks ahead he would be setting forth his specific findings and proposals stemming from his world tour, "particularly in connection in Vietnam."

Romney, who discussed with world leaders the possibilities of neutralizing Southeast Asia, said he was considering it only as an alternative to war.

Romney got in a lengthy discussion at the airport with a television reporter on his so-called "bad press."

Romney said one of the causes of the polls showing he is declining in popularity was "a bad press."

He said he hopes to overcome what the bad polls represent by "reaching people so they'll see what I am."

Rapid Decline
"The people have great influence with delegates. They're the primary influence in this country."

Hanoi Seeking Site For Talks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnam has asked the governments of Laos, Cambodia and Burma if their capitals are available for preliminary Vietnam peace talks, a well-informed Laotian source said today.

U.S. Embassy sources admitted they had heard of the reported approach from Hanoi, but they were noncommittal.

High Laotian officials said they did not know how firm Hanoi's intentions were and that the Laotians were adopting a "wait and see attitude."

The Laotian source who reported the North Vietnamese overture said it was made on New Year's Day by Nguyen Chan, the North Vietnamese Charge d'Affaires, who was seen in conversation with Premier Souvanna Phouma at Prince Souvanna's annual New Year's reception.

He was asked about a Newsweek article, which noted his rapid decline in the polls in the last five months.

"I've seen the polls go up and down and they move very rapidly, and the fact that polls move rapidly seems to indicate that the people of this country really have not made up their minds yet," he said.

The reporter asked him about his quoted statements earlier in the day in Paris about having a "bad" press and "negative press."

Romney at first said he did not use the word negative press, but the reporter said it was on tape.

Bad Press
"Well, that was related to a bad press. I may have added it had been a negative press," Romney said.

Reading from a prepared statement, Romney said of his talks with world leaders: "Concern about our domestic inflation and our dollar drift is growing. Respect for Americans among the people of other nations is still a plus, but it's declining and it's declining rapidly."

Head Start Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded a grant of $178,606 to the Wayne County Economic Opportunity Committee for a 10-month head start program serving 120 children outside Detroit. U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Tuesday.

'I'm Underdog' Says Romney Of Initial Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, who concedes he trails Richard M. Nixon in popularity polls, "may be a setup" for Nixon in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary, says a liberal GOP group.

The Ripon Society said in its current newsletter a Nixon-Romney contest in New Hampshire could be similar to the West Virginia Democratic primary of 1960 in which John F. Kennedy defeated Hubert H. Humphrey.

Humphrey quit the presidential race after that defeat and Kennedy went on to win the nomination and the White House.

"Romney may be a setup for Nixon just as Humphrey was for Kennedy," the Ripon Society said. "As John Kennedy demonstrated in 1960, a landslide victory, even over an opponent who never really had a chance, can be made a convincing selling point in the campaign for delegate votes in other states."

Romney told newsmen Wednesday in New York after completing his foreign tour: "I am an underdog and I have an uphill battle. I'm not accustomed to this."

Before flying home, he told Paris reporters who asked him to comment on public opinion polls showing him further behind Nixon now than last June: "Oh, I think that's a reflection of the press more than the people."

"I think the press has been very negative for a long time toward me...And I think when I indicate what I believe in and what I stand for that I can change that picture."

Romney heads for New Hampshire Jan. 11 to open his campaign and is scheduled to visit at least eight communities that day. He's expected to spend five days on his initial campaign trip. He has made it clear he plans a campaign which will bring him in personal touch with as many voters as possible in that small state "so they will see what I have." The primary is March 12.

The Ripon Society published a poll taken among readers of its newsletter, The Forum, with 60 per cent rating New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller their first choice for the GOP nomination.

It reported 78 per cent of the readers responding consider Rockefeller the Republican most likely to defeat President Johnson. But 70.6 per cent of the same liberal Republicans said Nixon has the best chance of winning the nomination. Rockefeller maintains he won't seek it.

CAPE TOWN (AP) — South Africa's second man to get a transplanted heart was reported getting along fine today. Meanwhile, the National Broadcasting Company went to court in an attempt to protect a contract for exclusive television coverage of the historic medical event.

In a morning bulletin, Groote Schuur Hospital said the condition of Dr. Philip Blaiberg, in whose chest the heart of a young factory worker was grafted Tuesday, "is very good."

He is making satisfactory progress," the bulletin said. "He is fully conscious. He has had no solid foods yet, but generally he is in very good spirits."

The bulletin gave no other details, but Dr. Jacobus Burger, medical superintendent of the hospital, said chances that Blaiberg's body would reject the alien heart were "very remote."

A hospital spokesman said the 58-year-old retired dentist began taking fluids by mouth Wednesday, less than 24 hours after the five-hour operation. The spokesman said he might be given some soft-boiled egg today.

Blaiberg is expected to remain in an oxygen tent for another three or four days. He was under constant observation, with checks being made on his pulse rate and blood pressure at least every half hour. His blood gases are analyzed twice daily, and the chemical content of the blood is tested every four hours.

The hospital spokesman said to guard against infection and too much emotion, Blaiberg would not be allowed to see his wife for several days.

The spokesman also said that radioactive cobalt treatment to counteract the body's natural tendency to reject a foreign object—the transplanted heart—would begin within a few days.

Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the surgical team for the transplant on Blaiberg and for medical history's first recorded heart transplant Dec. 3 on Louis Washkansky, had indicated that Blaiberg would be given less antirejection treatment than Washkansky. The Rural Accident Study Underway

Rural families of 10 Michigan counties are taking part in a Michigan State University survey to determine the nature of rural area accidents, according to Richard Pfister, MSU Extension safety engineer.

Interviews of farm families are being conducted by representatives of MSU's Agricultural Engineering Department, the county Extension staff and the Michigan Farm Bureau to discover such factors as severity, frequency, and types of accidents. Other questions concern age of accident victim, to whom accident occurred, and number of accidents per farm.

The survey will provide information for developing more effective safety educational programs for farm communities. It runs from June 1967 to July 1968.

Counties in the survey are Alpena, Branch, Delta, Jackson, Kent, Mecosta, Monroe, St. Clair, Tuscola and Van Buren.

Twelve local leaders are assisting in gathering the information from some 120 families scattered throughout Delta County.

The information will also be valuable to determine accident frequency and severity as it might relate to workmens compensation. Today very few records are available on farm accidents.

New Air Freight Service Begins

Start of a new air freight service in Escanaba—Air Cargo, Inc.—was announced today by Claude Tobin Jr., franchise holder for the Escanaba area.

Pickup and delivery service for North Central Airlines flights to and from Escanaba will be available daily except Sunday, Tobin said.

Service will extend to a 25-mile radius of Escanaba. Air Cargo, Inc., is a nationwide firm providing one-day delivery of air freight to most major cities in the United States. Its stockholders 31 of the nation's major airlines, including North Central.

Connections for foreign cities are available through associated lines.

Tobin said the franchise was granted to the Escanaba area because of the industrial expansion apparent in the area.

He said the availability of the service will assist local industry in obtaining parts, etc., with least delay.

In 1967, more than 4,000,000 freight shipments were handled in a service area of over 5,750 communities.

Lake Pollution Meet Jan. 31

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana will take part in a Jan. 31 conference in Chicago on pollution of Lake Michigan.

Clarence W. Klassen, technical secretary of the Illinois Sanitary Water Board, said Wednesday the conference was planned as a result of a request by Gov. Otto Kerner and was called by Stewart L. Udall, secretary of the interior.

Udall will be chairman of the conference.

The Illinois Sanitary Water Board, the Wisconsin Department of Resources Development, the Indiana Stream Pollution Control Board, the Michigan Water Resources Commission and the U. S. Department of the Interior are to be represented at the conference.

The meeting is billed as the first step in enforcing the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

Clover Buyers Urged To Select Approved Seeds

Farmers interested in getting something for nothing can buy themselves a lot of disappointment cheaply by using "cut-rate" seed, warns J. L. Heirman, Delta County Agricultural agent.

Heirman warns farmers that cut-rate handlers, who use price concessions, are pushing Altwade clover again this year. Michigan State University research has shown that their contentions are not always true and that over a two-year period Michigan Mammoth will out perform Altwade by about two thirds of a ton per acre per year.

The MSU variety trials have proven that Pennscott, Lakeland, Dollard, and Michigan common medium all outyield the Canadian-developed variety.

Research also shows that Altwade, a one-cut type, has a high percentage of smooth stems and leaf branches, making it highly susceptible to leafhoppers. It is not recommended for planting in Michigan.

MSU researchers recommend Lakeland, a consistently good performer.

1967 Third Best For Auto Makers

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto-makers posted their third best sales year in history in 1967 with domestic car sales off more than 10 per cent from 1966, the second best year, and down more than 13 per cent from record setting 1965.

With all four major U.S. producers except Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. reporting their final figures Tuesday, the Associated Press estimated 1967 total sales by U.S. manufacturers in the United States at 7,564,307, compared to 8,372,844 the year before and 8,750,831 in 1965.

Ford Motor Co. was closed down completely for two months of the year by a national and local strikes by the United Auto Workers, Chrysler and General Motors were hit by a series of local walkouts.

General Motors sales were 320,293 for the month of December, down from 354,203 sold in Dec. 1966 and 400,974 sold in Nov. 1967. GM total sales for 1967 were 4,138,620, compared with 4,336,704 in 1966 and 4,653,817 in 1965.

Ford Motor Co. reported its Lincoln-Mercury Division sold 22,523 cars in December, slightly more than 32,593 sold during December of 1965 and considerably more than the 11,630 sold in Nov. 1967. Lincoln-Mercury sold 333,599 cars in 1967.

Chrysler, the smallest of the Big Three automakers sold 119,921 cars last month, compared with 113,220 of December 1965 and 125,123 in Nov. 1967. Total 1967 sales were 1,353,766, compared with 1,399,741 in 1966 and 1,375,165 in 1965.

And financially troubled American Motors sold 23,039 cars during December, an increase over the 22,704 sold during the same month in 1965, but fewer than 23,654 sold last November. AMC sold 241,404 autos during 1967, down from 1966 when 266,238 were sold and far below the bumper year of 1965, when 322,095 cars were sold.

Calcutta, India, was hit by a devastating earthquake that took 300,000 lives on Oct. 11, 1937.

Hooker-Udylite Merger Complete

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of Volvo U.S.A., importer of Swedish automobiles, predicted Wednesday that sales of U.S.-made cars will remain below 8 million in 1968.

Stig Jansson's forecast was at variance with the projections of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler that domestic sales would total between 8.2 million and 8.5 million this year.

Domestic sales in 1967 were about 7.6 million.

"The general uncertainty of the Vietnam problem and an election year, combined with the economic uncertainty of cuts in government spending, climbing interest rates and income tax increases, will hold 1968 domestic car sales at 1967 levels," Jansson said.

He predicted U.S. sales of imported cars would total 825,000, an increase of 75,000 over 1967.

The Public Land Law Review Commission, which heard Upper Michigan requests for federal land law policy reform last year, has been granted more money and more time to complete its review.

Its review is a vital need of appropriate landholding. The Upper Peninsula has taken a mistaken attitude for a long time that, because it was a depressed area, it should welcome federal acquisition of its lands for any purposes and without limitation. The Great White Father in Washington and his helpers from the state government in Lansing were welcomed when they came with their checkbooks to buy up Upper Peninsula acreage.

When the federal government did this in the period of cession of Indian lands in the last century it behaved with such mendacity that a Congress stricken with conscience gave permission in recent years for the Indian claim cases which have resulted in the award of millions of dollars to the tribes who were given far too little for the land which they ceded to the federal government.

There then followed a period of settlement in which the federal government sold and gave away the lands to encourage settlement and development. The period ended with nearly all the land in private ownership in excess for government installations and so-called "swamp lands" which were judged useless.

With the expiration of the old growth forests and the decline of big sawmilling, and a decline in both iron and copper mining before these latter industries entered new phases, and with no increase in farming, the Upper Peninsula entered its second century with a depressed economy.

There were suggestions that the area didn't come out of the Great Depression which started in 1929 like the rest of Michigan and much of the rest of the nation, but this was a coincidence and not an explanation of what happened. The Upper Peninsula had always been its economy on extractive industry — made its living by producing lumber, fish, iron, copper and stone.

In the process it had not developed general manufacturing like other areas which switched their economies to new bases when the original reasons for their creation had expired. The wealth created by the pioneering in extractive industries didn't remain in the U. P. to nurture manufacturing here. And, anyway, manufacturers didn't want to be at the end of the country. Population in the Upper Peninsula declined for more than 20 years.

The Upper Peninsula, from having been regarded as "distant," became regarded as "isolated." The psychological impediment of distance became a barrier to industrial growth. And when the inevitable change came and the outmigration of Peninsulans eased and there was a great rebirth of mining and a new era in wood industry because the forests were renewed, the old image of the U. P. still lingered.

It became a poaching ground for the state and federal governments, most notably the latter. The acquisitions weren't so labeled, of course, and, truthfully, they were heaven-sent, because they rehabilitated forest lands which had been abused and abandoned. But it should be noted that it was government taxing policy in the first place which made the private owners destroy their value and abandon them. When the government took them over it wasn't required to bear the tax load which the private owners could no longer bear, but such relief had been denied to the private owners.

The government recovery of the land which it sold in the last century has now passed the 40 per cent mark and it continues apace.

Studies of the projected recreational needs of Michigan all stress that there should be provision for play areas near the great centers of population. The U. P. is not one of them but it has become the Happy Hunting Grounds of government planners because it is so little settled that it cannot generate effective political protests to usurpation. This makes it a patsy for the government planners who are going to be sure that future generations will have as many forest paths as Natty Bumppo.

The federal and state governments are creating a forest wonderland in the Upper Peninsula. It is this which concerns us and which we think should concern the Public Land Law Review Commission.

The goodies which are being created here for the future are not for us; they're for the whole blooming country and state and they should bear a more equitable share of their cost. When the federal government takes away the local taxing base to create a forest or bird sanctuary or some other public facility, it creates a public benefit whose cost should not rest heavily on the local neighborhood, but that's what is happening.

Federal planning, while suggesting billions for the relief of the great cities, is creating a Basswood Ghetto in the Upper Peninsula.

Couple In Maine Give First-Aid To Oil-Soaked Birds

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine (AP) — A Cape Elizabeth couple opened a first-aid station for oil-soaked seabirds at their home, but fear sub-zero temperatures will kill hundreds of weakened waterfowl along Maine's southern coast.

Helpless birds, oil-soaked and starving, have been reported along 40 miles of coastline from Portland to Cape Neddick. Officials have been unable to find the source of the oil.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jordan said Monday they have saved about 60 of the birds. Others, she said, were succumbing to cold, starvation and oil poisoning.

Volunteers and game wardens have been bringing the birds to the Jordan home since Friday. The Jordans raise wild birds as a hobby and are among the few Maine residents with the federal permits required to handle the birds.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Koons is with the U.S. Antarctic research program at Byrd Station—600 miles from the South Pole.

Security Benefits To Reduce Poverty

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In today's context of the "Anti-poverty War," it is not easy for administrators and other defenders of the massive Social Security system to keep it from being regarded as just one more very large anti-poverty weapon.

Liberal U.S. senators who tried to mount a last-minute attack on the alleged inadequacies of the 1967 Social Security bill talked of it as if it were nearly a total failure.

Sen. Joseph Tydings, Maryland Democrat, said the measure which finally was enacted "guts the Social Security program of benefits vital to all older Americans."

The proposals he spoke of actually provide the highest single increase in Social Security cash benefits in the system's history. It is estimated they will lift a million more Americans out of poverty — and that the system thereafter will keep at least seven million people out of that rut.

The complainant's argument is basically simple: that Congress should have raised the minimum benefits much higher and thus made the program still more useful as an anti-poverty weapon.

Beginning with March 2 checks, the minimum retirement payment will rise from $44 to $55. But the Senate version, lost in the final compromises between the two houses, would have increased that minimum to $70.

The "minimum payment" feature is clearly an anti-poverty device, though it is of long standing in the program. For that fixed low-level benefit goes to any worker at age 65, even though his yearly earnings over the years under Social Security may average only $800 or less.

Analysts who argue that Social Security is a "bad insurance program" fasten on such features. But Eugene Thore, president of the Life Insurance Association of America, wrote as follows to Wilbur Cohen, Undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare:

"The life insurance community, for the most part, recognizes the importance and necessity of the Social Security floor of protection as the base upon which American families can build their own plans of savings and security."

The minimum payment feature is not the only noninsurance element in Social Security. Some elderly folk with little or no work under Social Security have, since 1966, been able to draw limited retirement benefits.

These benefits become payable when these persons become 72. Men born 1896 to 1900, and women born 1896-98, need some work under Social Security to qualify. Anyone born before 1896, need have no work credit at all.

These special payments were $35 a person a month and $57.50 a couple, but have been raised under the new law to $40 and $60. And, in a departure from the insurance principle, they are paid out of Social Security trust funds but from the general U.S. Treasury.

But it is not just the minimums and these special payments which give the Social Security system its "anti-poverty" flavor. The whole benefit formula is heavily weighted to give advantage to those with low average earnings through their working life.

Thus, under the pre-1967 law, the Social Security recipient gets in benefits about 63 per cent of the first $110 of his average earnings, but only 22 per cent of earnings above that level.

All these features notwithstanding, the administrators and supporters of Social Security regard it principally as a social insurance program which protects American citizens basically not against old age as such—but against the risk of loss of income which may accompany old age. Since the Social Security system is designed to reduce the income loss you may suffer as you get older, it should not surprise you that your monthly retirement benefits will be smaller if you can still work and earn

Ann Arbor Group Backs McCarthy

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A group of Democrats in Washtenaw County is seeking financial support and volunteer help in an effort to nominate Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Wis., for the presidency.

The group says it is concerned over President Johnson's current Vietnam policy, and that Sen. McCarthy can offer an "effective alternative to that policy."

Mrs. Jean King, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee is a member of the group, along with Walter Scheider, vice-chairman of the Ann Arbor Democratic Party and Lloyd E. Williams Jr., former president of the Ann Arbor Board of Education.

erred her partner's queen with the king. South took his ace and played ace and another heart. Dummy's jack lost to East's king and the three of spades was led.

South ducked and Jacoby was in with the queen. It was now up to him to make a key play and he did. He was sure his partner had started with exactly three diamonds. If she had only two, then South would have five, if she held four she would not have played the king. Where was the ten of diamonds in that case? In the East hand. Sally would not have played the king from king and two small.

Jacoby led his nine of diamonds and Mrs. Johnson was careful to put on the ten. Then she led her deuce of spades.

South went up with the ace, entered dummy with a club, played the queen of hearts, cashed the rest of his clubs when the ten of hearts failed to drop and settled for down one.

Good defense may merely be a matter of individual brilliance. Really expert defense requires co-operation of both partners and mutual confidence.

Our favorite hand of this type for 1967 occurred in a New York City mixed pair. Connecticut bridge teacher Sally Johnson sat East and Oswald Jacoby West.

We don't really recommend West's overall, even though one of us did make it. (Jim says, "The older my father gets, the more he likes to bid.") Anyway the overall didn't keep South from arriving at three no-trump. He could have made his contract against any defense at all and would have made it easily without the actual defense that faced him.

The queen of diamonds led was normal. Mrs. Johnson cov-

This protects the "sometime" worker of retirement age from sudden dips or lean periods in earning power.

These same rules apply if you are self-employed. But even if your net earnings (profits) for a given month fail to exceed the $140 limit now set, you can't get a check for that month if you have performed what the authorities call "substantial services." Generally, that means devoting more than 45 hours to your business during the month.

You can, of course, earn a good deal more than $1,680 a year and still get some retirement benefit, though naturally it is reduced progressively as your total of earnings rises.

For instance, a man at retirement age who earns $3,000 a year and would get $4,200 annually in benefits if fully retired would still get yearly benefits of $3,480.

Even a man in that benefit category who made $6,000 a year would get $480 in yearly benefits.

The month you reach the age of 72, the ceiling on earnings is lifted. Thereafter, you get your full benefits no matter how much you make. The obvious theory, however, is that by then your earnings are not likely to be too large.

Wagman Named To Study Group

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Frederick H. The commission will investigate the relationship between such material and antisocial behavior, particularly in minors.

Ann Landers

Just Too Dumb And Weak To Say, 'No!'

Dear Ann Landers: I am sick and tired of your corny clichés. You tell wives to "turn on the heat" and then you add, "If a husband is well fed at home, he will not be inclined to go to restaurants." Of course my husband shoves these columns under my nose and says, "See anyone here you recognize, Kiddo?"

Since you are so smart, Ann Landers, please tell me how can a wife be a great sex partner when her child is having an asthma attack in the next room? — NO FRIEND OF YOURS

Dear No Friend: How often does your child have asthma attacks? If he has them every night, he needs more help than you realize. If you are using your child's asthma attacks as an excuse, then YOU need more help than I can give you, Kiddo.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the woman who fought her way back from mental illness was a chapter out of my life. The similarities were amazing, only I was in worse shape.

I, too, had a sister-in-law who called me a faker and told everyone I was pretending to be sick because I wanted to run away from my responsibilities. I married young and my husband's family disliked me from the start. I tried hard to please them but it was hopeless. Finally it got so bad that whenever someone pulled up in the driveway I was afraid it was my in-laws and I became nauseated. A knock at the door would cause me to vomit. When I had to spend an evening with a member of my husband's family I developed a sick headache and sometimes I even fainted. After six months I developed hysterical blindness and couldn't see for several weeks.

I doctored through all this but no one seemed to understand my problem. My salvation was an angel of a woman who moved next door. She let me come to her house and talk to her for hours. When I felt poorly, she came to my house and listened. Never once did she remark how messy things looked. She also made me realize how fortunate I was to have a husband who stood by me. Not many men would have taken over the care of the children and kept quiet about his wife's terrible housekeeping and miserable meals. He

'Cool Diplomacy' Student Attempt To End Violence

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — After several years of racial tension and periodic violence at Atlantic City High School, the students have formed their own group, "The Peace Corps," to head off further trouble.

Their program involves what one member described as "cool diplomacy."

Corps teams, each with a Negro and a white member, are visiting classrooms during school hours in an effort to discuss racial attitudes with each of the school's 2,850 students, one third of whom are Negroes. Adults are excluded at the students' request.

The first corps project was 12 after-class meetings with seniors to air their feelings.

The corps, composed of 30 white and 30 Negro youths, was formed two months ago, a week after five policemen were assigned fulltime to patrol school corridors and yards. The policemen are still at the school.

The organization has no officers and acts on a consensus basis.

Of the present sessions, Negro senior Cory Clairborne says, "It's surprising how frankly students, both Negro and white, have spoken of their feelings."

A pretty blonde sophomore coed admitted at a corps discussion that she feared Negroes and when she saw a Negro boy in the school corridor she would walk to the other side.

She said that before she enrolled in high school "the only personal contact I had with the colored was the maid who cleaned our house."

Charles Goodman, a Negro senior and corps member, says, "The white girls' fear of Negro youths" is a basic cause of the trouble at the school.

He attributes this fear to the lack of Negro enrollment in the elementary schools of four small surrounding communities, whose pupils attend the high school, the only public high school in the area, under a tuition arrangement.

Parents Instill Fear

The four communities, Ventnor, Margate, Longport and Brigantine, have a total of three Negro families. There are 23,000 Negroes in Atlantic City.

Goodman contends social segregation of the races spurs "prejudiced white parents to instill in their children a fear of Negroes and when their daughters begin here they're scared."

Because of this fear, the corps has made some progress, says Sonny Popowsky, president of the student council who is white.

He says whites and Negroes are beginning to learn about each other, how they think, how they react and their goals.

One successful corps program has been the effort made at the last basketball game to integrate the seating at games. Previously whites and Negroes voluntarily sat in separate sections.

Basic Cause

Principal William Faunce, an alumnus of the school, agrees that de facto segregation in elementary schools is a basic cause of the trouble.

"Neither the white nor the Negro youngsters are prepared when they enroll here," he explains. "They come from two different environments and are suddenly placed together. It takes time and effort to get acclimated, and it is not easy for them."

But he is optimistic about the corps and the progress it has made so far. "Just by getting the students to talk together, that's half the battle licked," he says.

Death Takes One Australian Quint

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — The last-born of Mrs. Patricia Braham's quintuplets became ill and died today at the age of four days. There was no indication that any of the other four babies were threatened.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p. m. Friday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 3 p. m. Saturday at the funeral home with Rev. John J. Wendland officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Stock Prices Grow Weaker

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices grew weaker early today. Trading was active. IBM, delayed in opening, dropped 5. Polaroid lost 6. Avon Products more than 4. E.G. & G. nearly 2.

American Broadcasting gained 1 as did American Telephone.

After a mixed opening the trend settled to the downside. Airlines and gold mining issues put on a steadier performance following their weakness of the past couple of sessions.

Weakness continued, however, among pivotal blue chips. Du Pont dropped 2 and Eastman Kodak 1.

Doubts about President Johnson's program to improve the U.S. balance-of-payments in foreign exchange continued to unsettle Wall Street despite a background of otherwise favorable economic news.

Emergency Air Pump Developed

DETROIT (AP)—The Pontiac Division of General Motors reports it has developed a new emergency air pump driven by an automobile engine to inflate tires on the spot.

The "Mini-Pump" will be available on models later this year, the division said.

The pump is operated by attaching it to a vacuum fitting on the engine and then running an inflator hose to the deflated tire. It is driven by engine vacuum while the engine is running.

The pump, designed to build a maximum pressure of 32 pounds per square inch, also can be used to inflate bicycle tires, air mattresses, beach balls, footballs and other air-filled items, Pontiac said.

Postman Turns Tiger

The Players de Noc will present four one-act plays in the Escanaba Area High School auditorium at 8 p. m. Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 8 and 9.

One of these, "The Tiger" by Murray Schisgal, stars Mrs. Robert Appel and Dick Hanson. The comedy is directed by Mrs. William Williams.

Other plays are "The Leader," "Sorry, Wrong Number" and "A Phoenix Too Frequent." Tickets are available at Gust Asp's and the West End Drug and by calling ST6-5291.

"The Tiger" was first presented in 1963. In "The Tiger," an eccentric, violent postman named Ben, grabs Gloria, a Long Island housewife, and carries her captive to his cold-water basement lair. The basic theme of the play is the universal one of loneliness and alienation from society, a theme converted into a witty, biting comedy.

Eli Wallach and Ann Jackson first starred in the play off Broadway, and have just recently completed the movie version, to be called "The Tiger Makes Out."

Dick Hanson, currently president of Players de Noc, will be remembered for his performances in the "Solid Gold Cadillac," "Music Man," "Come Blow Your Horn," "Box and Cox," and "The Crucible." He has been interested in community theatre for many years. He is from Detroit Lakes, Minn.

Helen Appel, interested in theatre since high school productions in Eau Claire, Wis., has taken part in "Impromptu" as Winifred and as Birdie in "Little Foxes."

Mrs. Williams, who has been involved in all of the Players de Noc productions, is making her first attempt in directing. She was the first president of the group from 1965-66. Besides having an interest in drama since childhood, she was a speech and theatre major at MSC and taught speech and forensics at Bark River High School.

Trappers Take 14,081 Beaver

LANSING (AP) — Michigan trappers took 14,081 beaver and 642 other last year, considered a good harvest, reports the State Conservation Department.

The beaver take, the department said, has exceeded the 14,000 mark only eight times in the last 36 years.

Beaver populations still are reported holding up well, although more than 30,000 were taken during the past two years.

Snowmobiles have enabled trappers to get back into remote areas during the winter months, the department reported.

Other prices were reported slightly higher than the price for beaver pelts.

"THE TIGER" stars Mrs. Robert Appel and Dick Hanson in the Players de Noc production of the Murray Schisgal one-act play, one of four to be presented by the Players at the Escanaba Area High School auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings, Jan. 8-9. Curtain time is 8 o'clock. (Daily Press Photo)

Car Hits Train, Three Injured

Three persons — two of them children — were injured at 3:33 p. m. Thursday when a car collided with a Chicago & North Western freight train at a crossing near the Pine Ridge School.

State Police said the victims, Lillian J. Leisner, 42, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, her son, Terry, 8, and Joan Rupert, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anshell Rupert, Rte. 1, Escanaba, were taken to St. Francis Hospital by ambulance.

All were reported in fair condition this morning.

Troopers said Mrs. Leisner had just picked up the children from school and did not see the train approaching until she was at the crossing. Officers said she tried to stop her car, but the vehicle slid on the icy road onto the tracks.

The diesel engine of the train hit the front of the car, pushing it about 10 feet down the tracks.

Mrs. Leisner's car was southbound on County Rd. C-21 in Wells Township. The train was eastbound. State Police said the crossing is marked, but does not have flasher lights.

Engineer of the train was Arthur Gagnier, 52, of 613 S. 16th St., Escanaba. A brakeman, George Noel, 37, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, also was in the cab, officers said.

City Announces Christmas Tree Pick-Up Schedule

What to do with that discarded Christmas tree needn't be a problem, Escanaba residents were advised today by Ken Touthak, public works superintendent.

Just haul the tree out to the street curb and leave it there. City crews will be picking up the trees between now and Wednesday, Jan. 10.

Don't place the tree in the alley or sideyard, for it will not be picked up there. Set it at the curbing along the street and it will be hauled away by the city with the thousands of others that have been discarded.

In Gladstone the boys on Tuesday night drove away a car owned by Elroy Backlund of Cornell; and in Escanaba they took an automobile owned by Jeff Erickson of Old State Road, from where it was parked near Marco's restaurant.

Another auto was taken by them in Escanaba several days ago.

Two Men Hurt In Derailment

By The Associated Press
At least four train mishaps have occurred in Michigan since Wednesday, injuring two railroad crewmen.
In Kalamazoo, three cars of a 73-car Pennsylvania Railroad freight train left the tracks in a freight yard today but remained upright. A railroad spokesman said no one was injured.
Six cars of a Grand Trunk Western freight train left the tracks in Muskegon County early today, blocking heavily traveled Henry Street near a factory entrance. A crane was summoned from the Detroit area to return the cars to the tracks. No injuries were reported.
South of Holland Wednesday night, the caboose of a Chesapeake & Ohio Railway train jumped the tracks and overturned, injuring two crewmen inside.
Lee Dobe, 60, of Grand Rapids, and Robert Koegler, 34, of Wyoming, which were treated at Holland Hospital and released. The caboose later caught fire and was destroyed.
In Charlotte Wednesday, two empty cars of a Grand Trunk Western Railroad train derailed at a siding.

Several hundred persons saw Eshkol off, including top-ranking Israeli officials, U.S. Ambassador Walworth Barbour and other diplomats.

Michigan Gets $33.3 Million For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Transportation has released $1.1 billion Wednesday for highway construction, including more than $33.3 million for Michigan projects.
The $33.338,000 for Michigan is somewhat less than the state's share for the final quarter of 1967, $33,481,000.
The new money is to enable Michigan to schedule projects and let contracts until March 31. It also provides funds for work already done.

Snow or snow flurries were expected in most of the state today, with winds and falling temperatures expected to sweep through Michigan in the afternoon. The lows tonight will range from 15 to 25 below in Upper Michigan and from zero to 15 below in the lower half of the state.
The weatherman said the highs won't be much warmer. The mercury is expected to stay between 12 and 22 degrees in Lower Michigan and range from zero to five below over much of the Upper Peninsula.

According to Michael LaPine, chairman of the Gladstone Housing Commission, it is likely that residents will begin moving into the city's planned low-rent housing structure before next Christmas.

Sturgis Teacher Denies Striking 5th Grade Pupils

STURGIS (AP) — An elementary schoolteacher has denied as "absolutely untrue" charges that she struck two pupils.
Elizabeth Riley issued the denial Wednesday night at a hearing she requested before the Sturgis School Board, school administrators and about 300 citizens.
School Board President Earl Millett said a decision will be made within the next two weeks on whether to reinstate Mrs. Riley.
She had been accused of hitting a fifth grade pupil in the chin and shoving a first grader to the ground.
Mrs. Riley, with 20 years' teaching experience — 12 of them with the Sturgis system, was dismissed last November by Supt. Warren Fudge for alleged "unprofessional conduct."
Five teachers at the Wall School, where Mrs. Riley taught testified she had been a stern disciplinarian but her reputation as a teacher "was above reproach."

treatment was believed a factor conducive to the pneumonia which killed Washkansky 18 days after the operation.
Meanwhile, the National Broadcasting Company went to court in an attempt to block a South African photographer who it said threatened to infringe on its contract with Blalberg and his wife for exclusive photo coverage and interviews before, during and after the operation.
NBC said it contracted with Dr. and Mrs. Blalberg last Friday to pay them $9,000 for exclusive films and interviews before the operation, $25,000 for "publication of the first exclusive film or pictures of the operation," and $16,000 for exclusive coverage afterward.
Dr. Barnard refused to permit NBC to photograph the operation, and court sources said this apparently would reduce the Blalbergs' take $25,000. But NBC in an affidavit to the Supreme Court said photographer Don McKenzie slipped into the gallery of the operating theater and made photographs of the operation before Dr. M.C. Botha, a member of the surgical team, ejected him.
Justice Basil F.J. Banks issued an order temporarily restraining McKenzie from selling or disposing of photographs relating to the operation. He was ordered to appear for a hearing Jan. 17 to determine whether the restraining order should be made permanent.

Final design development conference between the Housing Commission and federal Housing Assistance officials in Chicago is scheduled for Feb. 5. Two of three required conferences have been completed.
Designed by Nichols and Barone, Architects, Green Bay, the apartment complex will consist of 48 one-bedroom units that will include kitchen with stove, refrigerator and sink, a living room, and a tiled bathroom. The other two units each have two bedrooms.
The three-story building also will provide an office for the executive director who will manage the apartments, a community room with serving kitchen, lobbies, balconies, laundry rooms, a central incinerator, mail room, maintenance shop, terrace and a paved parking lot for 18 cars.
LaPine said that rents have not been determined but that they should range from about $30 to a maximum of $55 with

Carl F. Winkler, Retired Engineer, Dies In Hancock

HANCOCK (AP) — Carl F. Winkler, a snow removal expert, died Wednesday in the Houghton County Medical Care Facility. He was 83.
Winkler retired as Houghton County highway engineer in 1960. Born in Saginaw in 1884, he was graduated from Michigan Tech in 1917 and shortly after became highway engineer for Gogebic County with headquarters in Ironwood.
Winkler joined the Houghton County Road Commission as chief highway engineer in 1931. Widely known for his engineering skills in fighting heavy snowfall, Winkler often was asked by highway departments in Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana to help fight their snow removal problems.
Winkler will be buried Saturday in Saginaw.
Killed in action were Sgt. James L. McIlvoy, father of Miss Kelly S. McIlvoy of South Lyon, and Pfc. William N. Lockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lockett of Detroit.
Now listed as killed in action are Army Spec. 4 Dannie L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Johnson of Ypsilanti, and Pfc. Charles D. McClurg, son of Mr. Charles C. McClurg of Benton Harbor.
The Pentagon also said that Army Pfc. David Antol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Antol of Dearborn, formerly listed as missing, now is listed as dead from nonhostile causes.

Cavanagh Finds A Police Chief

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh announced Wednesday he has found a successor to Police Commissioner Ray Girardin. Cavanagh declined to name the man but said he has accepted the post.
The mayor said he would name the new commissioner soon.
Girardin, who announced his retirement Oct. 5, when he turned 65, has presided over a force that has been accused of being both too brutal and too lax in its handling of the July racial riot in Detroit.
Also in 1967 the department was hit by a wave of sick calls as policemen protested for higher pay.
Cavanagh also said he has postponed indefinitely a planned three-year study of the police department. Cavanagh said he decided to delay the study because of the pending change of command at the top of the department, a departmental reorganization already underway and the length and cost of the proposed study.
The decision came after a meeting with Arthur Brandstatter, director of the Michigan State University Department of Police Administration, and J.L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the New Detroit Committee.
The New Detroit Committee, which was set up by Cavanagh and Gov. George Romney to help rehabilitate the riot torn area in Detroit, retained Brandstatter for the police study.

Red Sanctuary

At issue in such talks suggested last week by the Cambodian chief of state is what U.S. officials term the growing use of Cambodia as a sanctuary for North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops battling the United States and her allies in South Vietnam.
Bowles, 66, has previously attempted to restore harmony to U.S. Cambodian relations.
Bowles participated in talks in New Delhi with Cambodian officials in 1965 after Sihanouk broke diplomatic relations with the United States. The prince at that time accused the Central Intelligence Agency of plotting against him.
In the current situation, Bowles cut short a holiday in South India to rush back to New Delhi on New Year's Day for a special appointment with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India to discuss the Cambodian question.

Allow Hot Pursuit?

Since Dec. 29, U.S. officials from President Johnson on down have been voicing a deep interest in a reported offer from Prince Sihanouk to discuss the issue of use by North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of Cambodia for a hideaway. He had accompanied the bid with assurance that he would refrain from using his own forces against American troops engaged in hot pursuit of Vietnamese Reds in unpopulated areas of Cambodia.
Sihanouk first took this stance in an interview published by the Washington Post in which he said he was "caught between the hammer and the anvil."
Reacting at a New Year's Day news conference at his Texas ranch, Johnson said that "we" read the prince's quoted statements "with a great deal of interest—and I might say pleasure—and they were being studied carefully."
He said, too, that "we are quite encouraged by the reactions of Prince Sihanouk."
In a New Year's Day statement of his own, Sihanouk explained his own position.
"If Mr. Johnson wants to send an ambassador to Cambodia to negotiate," he said, "this is possible, but what is going to be negotiated? There will be negotiations so that the two countries do not become enemies."

$30,000 Taken At Flint Bank

FLINT (AP) — Two masked gunmen escaped with more than $30,000 from a Flint bank today, police said.
The gunmen entered the Genesee Merchants Bank & Trust Co. on the city's Southeast Side shortly before 10 a.m., officers said. The bank is a converted mobile home in a shopping center parking lot.
Judith Leach, 24, a teller, told newsmen the robbers "seemed to be familiar with the place and knew where they wanted to go." She said they spoke little.
Mrs. Leach was the victim of a similar holdup at the branch last May 4 when a gunman stole $2,679. Police later said a man was arrested in Detroit for that robbery.
After today's robbery, police said they found the getaway car in the parking lot of a shopping center across the road. The car had been reported stolen today in Livonia, a Detroit suburb.
Police said the car from the May 4 holdup was found in the same lot.

Teamsters Sign With 2 Interim Detroit Papers

DETROIT (AP) — Striking Teamsters drivers, who have shut down Detroit's two major daily newspapers for seven weeks, negotiated contracts with two of three interim strike newspapers Wednesday said they would strike the third strike paper if it did not come to terms.
"They agreed to meet all terms of the contract we have demanded from the (Detroit) News," said Clare O'Connor, president of Teamsters Local 372.
He said contracts with the Detroit Daily Press and Detroit Express, calling for a 10 per cent wage increase over the expired pact at the News, were to be signed today.
O'Connor said officials from the third strike paper, the Detroit Dispatch, "didn't show up for the meeting."
"If they don't show up today, we'll close them down," he added.

Juvenile Crime Wave Is Nipped

MUSKEGON (AP) — Police at Muskegon report three juveniles, two of them on parole from boys vocational school, told officers they broke into three men's clothing stores in the Muskegon area in the past 30 days and took loot valued at $3,675. Most of it was recovered.
Sgt. John Jurkas of the Muskegon Police Department and Lt. Willie Howell of the Muskegon Heights Police Department said the trio also told of robbing a man on the street and a motel night clerk.
Jurkas said two of the youths have been referred to their parole officers for return to boys vocational school and the third was referred to Muskegon County juvenile authorities.

ESCANABA'S FUTURE will look like this? Perhaps so, says artist Harold Joseph Gardner of Marquette State Prison, who completed this picture while he was in the Delta County jail at Escanaba. Gardner's drawing showing the U. S. 2-41 and M 35 of the future appears on the January cover of the city calendar and report for 1968. Gardner is interested in science and would welcome books on the subject.

Coal Industry Grew In 1967

WASHINGTON — The nation's bituminous coal industry maintained its growth in 1967 and laid the groundwork for what may be one of its best years in history, says the National Coal Association.

"Our 1967 production reached an estimated 550 million tons in 1967," said NCA President Stephen F. Dunn, "and in 1968, customers at home and abroad should use 565 million tons."

Three significant things happened to the coal industry in 1967 which assure steady and stable growth in 1968 and well into the future, he said:

"Coal scored a significant victory over its potentially greatest competitor, atomic power. Then we accomplished a research breakthrough which will open up a vast new market equalling what is presently our greatest single consumer—electric utilities. And coal's research into air pollution reached the verge of solution in 1967."

The victory over atomic power was the decision made in June by the Tennessee Valley Authority to build the world's largest generating unit, a 1.3 million kilowatt behemoth, and make it coal-fired. TVA in December ordered a twin of the first unit.

In March, General Electric

Co. said it would raise the price of atomic plants because it had been losing money on them. GE reported that costs had risen sharply over initial estimates, and additional losses would be incurred in filling plant orders still on the books.

The NCA Economics Committee said that of the 550 million tons of bituminous coal produced in 1967, some 276 million tons were consumed by the electric utilities. Another 92 million tons for coking of premium-quality coal was converted into coke, principally for steel mills. General industry burned 102 million tons, 17 million were delivered to retail customers, 15 million for export to Canada, and 33 million for overseas export. The coal stockpiles increased by roughly 15 million tons.

Brightest spot was the nearly 12 million-ton gain in the electric utilities market.

Biber Renamed On Corrections

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken has announced one reappointment to the State Corrections Commission and a new appointment to the State Board of Pharmacy. Renamed to the Corrections commission for a four-year term expiring Dec. 31, 1971, was Max Biber, 55, of Detroit.

Biber, an attorney and oil company official, is a Democratic member of the five-man, bipartisan commission and has served on the commission since 1960.

Russel V. Oosting of Grand Rapids was named to the Board of Pharmacy for a five-year term ending Dec. 31, 1972.

Oosting, 60, succeeds Richard Wilson of Birmingham, whose term expired.

He will serve as a Republican member of the five-man bipartisan board. Both appointments require Senate confirmation.

Censorship Rule Asked Of Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Distributors of movies banned in Chicago and restricted in Dallas are asking the Supreme Court to tighten guidelines this year on city film censorship.

The Dallas distributor says bans should be limited to films found obscene under tests already set by the Supreme Court—and contends Dallas' standards are unconstitutionally vague and ambiguous.

The Chicago distributor says that city's appeal procedure is so time-consuming that films can be arbitrarily kept out of theaters "beyond any permissible constitutional limits."

The Chicago firm, Teitel Film Corp., also claims an Illinois court improperly ruled "rent-A-Girl" and "Body of a Female" obscene on grounds they are calculated to arouse sexual desire.

Teitel argues the Supreme Court already has held that sexual arousal is not a test of obscenity.

The court will hear the Dallas case—and is expected to decide whether to accept the Chicago case—shortly after it reconvenes Jan. 15.

Neither case challenges the constitutionality of film censorship itself. That appeared to be upheld, with restraints, in the court's Freedman vs. Maryland decision in 1965.

But they ask further guidelines on just what an obscene film is and how long a city can keep a questionable picture out of theaters through appeal procedures.

Intestate Circuit, Inc., joined by United Artists Corp., contends Dallas was unconstitutionally vague when it restricted the Brigitte Bardot film "Viva Maria" on grounds of sexual promiscuity.

Teitel says Chicago kept its two films out of theaters 20 months before a state court ever ruled them obscene—and says the appeal procedure might have taken longer.

But the Illinois Supreme Court held Chicago's procedure to be constitutional and ruled both films were obscene.

British Expect 5% Price Rise

LONDON (AP) — Prices in Britain are climbing as the effects of devaluation hit imports and manufacturing costs.

Prices were raised during December on nearly 800 grocery items. Hundreds of other increases have been applied to industrial items. The consensus is that price rises in 1968 will average about 5 per cent.

However, some price increases being introduced are already considerably higher than that average. British subsidiaries of International Business Machines Corp. and of Burroughs Corp. announced price rises of up to 10 per cent in their lines of computing and data processing equipment over the weekend.

Britain's Trades Union Congress has announced it wants wage increases of 3.5 per cent to 4 per cent in 1968. The government however, has rejected this demand.

Some British industrialists contend that rising costs, increased wages, higher taxes and elimination of an export rebate have knocked nearly 6 percentage points from the 14.3 per cent advantage exporters achieved through November's devaluation.

NAACP Chapter Interest Revived

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), thought headed for extinction last week, is showing new signs of life.

Former chapter president Duane Roberts said Wednesday that there has been a "new surge of interest" since an announcement last week that the chapter might be disbanded.

Roberts said plans for the reorganization of the chapter will be discussed at a meeting Jan. 15.

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Do you have that "odd sock" problem at laundry time?

I solved this one by hanging (or you can glue) a clothespin over my clothes dryer.

When all the laundry is folded, I clip any odd socks to the clothespin and wait for the next batch of clean clothes.

The mate usually shows up after one or two more loads and I have the matching one all ready to put with it.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

By the way . . . when trying to catch mosquitoes "by hand," try wetting your hand with some water!

It works every time because those gauzy wings stick to the moisture on your hands instead of slipping through them when you open your fist to see if you got him.

Grace T.

Grace, I thought this was funny, but my husband said it's a good hint and it works.

You see, I let him catch the mosquitoes.

Dear Heloise:

I am an avid house plant grower and have discovered a good way to cover the hole in the bottom of the flower pot in order to keep the proper moisture in the soil.

Having no stones handy, I cut up a sponge to fit the bottom of the pot.

As the sponge retains moisture very well, this method has given me much nicer plants — especially great for African violets.

Billy Graham Film Showing On Saturday

Local Billy Graham committee chairman, the Rev. Erland E. Carlson, has announced the showing of the color film, "London Hears Billy Graham", at Immanuel Lutheran Church, 600 S. 23rd St. Saturday, Jan. 6, at 7:30 p. m.

The film is the complete story of what happened when London and the entire British nation heard Billy Graham during an historic month-long crusade in the summer of 1966. The 55 minute color film shows the reception at Southampton, the meetings in Earl's Court Arena, street appearances in Soho, Brixton and Trafalgar Square.

Twelve years after Graham's crusade there in 1954, over one million people heard the evangelist in 1966.

The film shows the reactions of the young people of "swinging London" and the climactic meeting in the great Wembley Stadium.

A coffee hour will follow the film showing. To cover expenses, a free will offering will be received. The public is invited to attend.

This film is a follow-up to the showing of "The Restless Ones", to 5,125 persons in Escanaba in November, says the Rev. Erland Carlson.

Italian Town Begins Year Of Loneliness

SAN GIOVANNI in FIORE, Italy (AP) — This town of poverty whose name means St. John in Flower has blossomed for four fleeting weeks and receded again into its loneliness.

Eight thousand of its menfolk, almost every able-bodied male of the 20,000 population, have headed north again to their year-long jobs in Germany, France, Switzerland and the factories of North Italy.

Those who remain behind to wait through the dragging months until 1968's Christmas and New Year workers' home leave are the women, the children and the old.

Four Weeks

St. John blooms only in those four weeks each year when the menfolk come back home.

Couples had to queue before the parish church over this Christmas and New Year holiday for 100 marriages crowded into the brief homecoming for young migrant men who had saved enough to wed the girls who waited.

Then they left the new brides to learn the town's old lesson of patience and loneliness until next year.

Homecoming fathers this year fondled 400 babies born last fall that they had never seen before.

It has been that way as long as the oldest resident can remember, because there is no work here.

Go Along

The only change is that in the past year or two some of the migrant workers started taking their wives north with them.

"They found out that a lot of what they earn goes for meals and laundry," explained Don Giuseppe Andriani, 72, the parish priest. "So some of them are taking their women with them."

"If you don't leave, you don't eat," said Biafora Oliverio, 59, who has been the town's busiest midwife for 35 years.

The priest agreed. "The town lives only on the providence of God," he said.

Eben Fashions Stunning Rally To Nip Perkins

EBEN—Coach Jim Jacobson's Eben Eagles staged an unbelievable comeback here Wednesday night to spill Perkins, 58-57, in a Central League battle.

Down by 22 points, 33-11, midway in the second period, the Eagles clawed back to capture their third straight victory. They had dropped their first three starts of the season.

It looked like curtains for the Eben team as Perkins pulled out to an 18-7 lead at the end of the first period and then outscored the Eagles by a 15-4 margin in the first four minutes of the second frame. Up to that time, Eben had missed 24 of 25 shots from the field.

The Eagles slowed it down and began working the ball in for better shots and the strategy paid off as they gradually cut their deficit through the third quarter.

Eben went ahead for the first time with less than a minute remaining when Paul Salminen hit a bucket and a free throw on a three-point play to make it 56-55. Perkins regained the lead with a field goal but Salminen came right back with a 15 foot jumper from the side of the circle to provide the winning margin with 20 seconds to go in the game.

Art VanDamme and Joe Couillard shouldered almost all of the scoring burden for Perkins, combining for 48 points while the remainder of the team tallied nine.

Salminen led Eben with 23 points while Don Maki came

Super Bowl Foes Settle Down

Jeeps Clear Off Snow For Packer Practice At Lambeau Gridiron

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Jeeps equipped with brushes swept four inches of snow off Green Bay's Lambeau Field Wednesday and the National Football League champion Packers held a closed workout in preparation for the Jan. 14 Super Bowl.

The Super Bowl game, against the American Football League champion Oakland Raiders, will be played in a warmer climate—at Miami.

The famed "electric blanket" that keeps the turf at Lambeau Field at 50 degrees was back in operation, after it had failed to do its job during last Sunday's NFL title game against Dallas. The temperature at game time was 13 below zero—a record for a title game—and the series of heated cables couldn't combat that. The field froze.

Once the snow was removed from the field Wednesday, though, the blanket began heating and steam rose from the field as the Packers limbered up. The temperature climbed to four above.

After their workout, they watched movies of the Raiders. The Packers plan to practice here today and Friday before flying to Miami on Sunday.

Green Bay, holder of an unprecedented third straight NFL title, will try to remain the only team ever to win a Super Bowl game. There has been only one so far, and the Packers won it, 35-10, against the Kansas City Chiefs last year.

Hall Of Fame For Sugar Ray

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen years after his first retirement and two years after his last one, Sugar Ray Robinson has made boxing's Hall of Fame.

Five times the middleweight champion and once the welterweight title holder, Robinson was elected to the Hall along with two fighters of another era, heavyweight Joe Jeannette and lightweight Barney "Young" Aaron.

Robinson, often called "pound for pound" the best fighter the sport has ever known, drew 223 votes from an international panel of sportswriters and broadcasters, one over the minimum amount needed. The balloting was compiled by Ring Magazine and announced Wednesday.

Robinson first retired in Nov. 1952 when he held the middleweight crown, but he came back two years later and continued his career that saw him win 175 of 202 fights, 109 of them by knockout. He lost 19 and drew six. No decision is listed for the other two.

Robinson nearly added the light heavyweight title to his collection in 1952. Ahead of Joey Maxim on points, Robinson collapsed from heat exhaustion in the 14th round. He finally retired in 1965. Robinson is now 47.

Jeannette, elected by a special old timers committee, met nearly every top heavyweight from 1904 to 1919. Aaron won the American lightweight title in 1867.

In the modern group, a boxer had to be listed on at least 75 per cent of the ballots cast. Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, drew 209 votes, 13 short of the minimum.

Paper Reports Grid Troubles

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Head Coach Charley Winner says the St. Louis Cardinals have one of the finest coaching staffs in the National Football League, but the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says the players don't agree.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch said eight players were fined an estimated total of $3,200 for missing a bed check when the team was in New York for the final game of the season against the Giants. The Giants won the game 37-14.

The Globe-Democrat then charged in its editions today that the players had missed the bedcheck on purpose. The newspaper said the Cardinals are in the midst of widespread player dissatisfaction with the coaches, the management and fellow players.

But Winner refused to comment on the stories. He was in Mobile, Ala., scouting the Senior Bowl game.

"I mean anything that happens on our ball club is a closed affair between the coaches and players and there's nothing to say about it," Winner remarked. He then praised his coaching staff.

The Globe-Democrat had quoted one player as saying about one coach, "That guy's not even smart enough to find places for 11 men when he diagrams plays on the blackboard."

Ex-Powers Cage Coach Writes From Alaska

Editor's note: Ron Larson, former Powers — Spalding High School basketball coach, is in his eighth year as basketball coach at Palmer, Alaska. A native of Gwynn where he was an outstanding prep athlete, Larson is a graduate of Wisconsin State College. He coached at Powers-Spalding from 1957 through 1959. In a recent letter to the Daily Press, Larson discussed some of the unique experiences involved in his Alaskan coaching career.

My purpose in writing this letter is to tell you a little bit about our athletic program in Alaska. I have found it challenging and thought maybe you would be interested in hearing about it.

First of all, Palmer is a community that many of your readers may have heard of. It was started in 1935 as a government project. People from Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota were sent here to start an agricultural settlement. Since then it has continued to grow and is now the main agricultural area in Alaska. (Mostly dairy farms that supply the large military bases and the city of Anchorage.)

Our location is about 40 miles north of Anchorage and our climate isn't much different than yours. We got our first snow about two weeks ago and it will last until the middle of April. One thing that is different, though, is our long days during the summer and the short winter days. Our daylight hours are so short now that we go to school and come home in the dark. I sure like the summer, though, when we have only a couple of hours of darkness.

Small Class A School

The high school where I coach is real modern and we have one of the nicest high school gyms I have ever seen. Presently we have 327 students in the high school. Our classification in Alaska is Class "A"

(the highest). However, we are the smallest school in Class "A". The other schools in our class are Fairbanks (1850), Anchorage East (1925), Anchorage Dimond (1200), Kenai (575), Kodiak (550), and Chugiak (335). Therefore, you can see that there is quite a range in school size in our classification. Other schools that we schedule are Wasilla, Nome, Seward, Cordova, Petersburg, and Juneau. I'll give you a brief run down of our schedule so that you can see the problem in travel that we have. (I sometimes wonder if any other high school team in the U. S. travels more than we do.)

To go to Nome (600 miles), Fairbanks (400 miles), Kodiak (350 miles), Cordova (200 miles), and Juneau (800 plus miles) we must charter a F27 prop jet, or fly commercial airlines. (The mileage is one way.) We take a bus to Seward (190 miles), Kenai (220 miles), Delta (300 miles), J. V.'s travel to Anchorage (42 miles), Chugiak (35 miles), and Wasilla (12 miles). I remember when I used to think Powers to Rapid River was a long way.

Our athletic programs have to pay completely for themselves, so you see we have a large travel expense cost each year. For example, it will cost us $864.00 for travel alone to Juneau. Then too, meals on trips are also very expensive. This is a land of $1.25 hamburgers and 25c glasses of milk. (About $3.00 per player per meal.)

See Whole State

It is really quite an experience for the players, though. If they are good enough to make the team for two years while they are in high school they will see everything from the King Island Eskimo settlement and native life in Nome to the modern cities of so you could shift your car. Happiness was seeing a herd of wild buffalo in the school yard. Happiness was not having any "white outs" in the mountain passes. But most of all, happiness was getting back to Palmer where it was only 10 below.

The weekend before the Nome team was down to play in Palmer. Happiness to me was seeing a real live horse and cow. Happiness was also seeing a real train and trees. Happiness was seeing indoor plumbing. (They have permanent permafrost.)

Just a little more about Alaska and then I will close. The people here are individualists, but friendly. We have the ultra modern and the very primitive. Everyone lives their own lives. (No keeping up with the neighbors.) Our form of local government is the borough instead of the county. Our borough is larger than the 23 smallest states separately. In the whole borough there are only three high schools (Palmer 327 students, Wasilla 115 students, and Talkeetna 17 students).

Wages, Costs Higher

Our wages are higher than stateside, but our cost of living is also very much higher. Everything has to be shipped in and we have high freight rates along with the high prices. Our educational system is of two types. We have the borough school in the incorporated district and the state school in outlying areas. The Bureau of Indian Affairs also runs schools in most of the native villages.

I've been rambling on here and I guess I'd better close I hope that you have found this letter of some interest.

Sincerely yours,
Ron Larson

Buster Says Joe Making Big Mistake

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't know why he signed for it. It's his first mistake. He's got his work cut out for him."

Big Buster Mathis, a 6-foot-3 giant who has trimmed down from 300 pounds to an almost sleek 240, started the war of words with Joe Frazier, the solemn-faced, 5-11, 210-pound heavyweight contender.

"That's just big talk," said Frazier later. "He's making a lot of mouth now. We'll see what happens in the ring."

The talking came after it was officially announced Wednesday that the two 23-year-old unbeaten heavyweights would battle for New York and Massachusetts recognition as world heavyweight champion in the first boxing show in the new 20,000-seat Madison Square Garden in the week of March 4. The date will be announced within a week.

It will be part of a championship doubleheader. Middleweight king Emile Griffith of New York will take on Italy's

Raider Coach Calls Pack "Near Perfect" After Seeing Films

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The American Football League champion Oakland Raiders looked at films of the Green Bay Packers and Coach John Rauch came away remarking, "I've never seen a perfect team. But if any comes close, it is Green Bay."

His comment Wednesday was in reply to sports experts' assertions that Coach Vince Lombardi's National League champion Packers constitute a perfect team.

Rauch, Coach of the Year in the AFL, and his champions will take another look at Green Bay films Thursday. That's the only way they're learning about their Jan. 14 foe in the Super Bowl at Miami for the pro championship.

They have not scouted Green Bay.

Lombardi had two scouts in the Coliseum Sunday when Oakland crushed Houston 40-7 for the AFL title. They called the Raider defense impressive, but said they couldn't make comparisons; they didn't know how good Houston was, so couldn't judge the caliber of team Oakland defeated.

The Green Bay scouts also refused to attempt a comparison of Oakland with the 1966 Kansas City Chiefs, whom the Packers defeated 35-10 in last year's Super Bowl.

The Raiders worked secretly Wednesday and will repeat Thursday. Rauch said he is

Sports In Brief

EAST LANSING (AP) — Pete Williams, an individual medley specialist from Pittsburgh, has been named captain of the Michigan State swimming team. Williams, a 21-year-old senior, won the 400-meter individual medley in the World University Games at Tokyo last summer with a time of 4:46.7, second best ever recorded.

Lomborg was the only consistently effective pitcher on the staff last season, with other starters moving in and out of the rotation while the team's heavy hitting and good clutch performances carried it to the pennant. The next biggest winners were Jose Santiago, 12-4, and Garry Bell, 13-13 for the year and 12-8 with Boston after being acquired from Cleveland.

Trenary Posts Fourth Win In Central League

TRENARY — Defending champion Trenary captured its fourth Central League basketball decision against two setbacks when they measured Big Bay de Noc, 76-69, Wednesday night.

Coach Steve Ellis' Comets ripped out of the starting gate for an 18-8 lead in the first period and the Black Bears were never able to catch up, although they came within five points in the final period.

Greg Begovac turned in an impressive relief performance, replacing John Trotter who is sidelined with illness. The 5 foot 10 inch junior tossed in 18 points and snared 14 rebounds for Trenary. The Comets flashed a balanced attack with Jack Mikulich hitting 20 points, Tim Harris 19 and Jim Cayer 12.

The Comets connected on 29 of 67 shots from the field (43 per cent) and 18 of 29 from the free throw line. Big Bay de Noc hit only 33 per cent from the field on 25 of 75 and added 19 of 29 from the stripe.

An outstanding performance by Bay de Noc's Rick Mercer went down the drain. He canned 12 buckets and added nine free throws for 33 points.

Trenary won the jayvee game, 68-58.

Central Wins Delayed Game

HILLSDALE (AP) — Central Michigan didn't exactly shoot the lights out of Hillsdale's field-house Wednesday night, but the Chippewas beat the Dales 85-76 in a game delayed 45 minutes because of a blackout.

The lights went off in the second half with CMU leading 50-34. Hillsdale officials attributed the power failure to an apparent electrical overload.

"The same thing happened to the same two teams last year," a Hillsdale spokesman said.

Willie Iverson topped Central, now 4-7, with 19 points. Dennis Hocka had 30 for Hillsdale, now 9-4, hitting on 12 of 15 floor shots and six of seven at the foul line.

Central shot 52 per cent for the Dales and outrebounded Hillsdale 52-50.

Mary Jane Dotsch Is Bride Of L. H. Fruch

Mary Jane Dotsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Dotsch of Garden and Leo Henry Fruch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fruch, Dallas, Iowa were united in marriage Dec. 30th at 12 noon. Rev. Joseph Callari officiated the double ring ceremony at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church in Garden.

Jonnae Ostrom of Parsons, West Va. was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Patricia Boudreau, Alpena, Rosemary Fruch and Linda Fruch of Des Moines, Iowa; and Cile Ann Boudreau of Adrian. Melvin Fruch was best man and groomsmen were Robert Jungk and Frank Farrell of Ames, Iowa; Dean Wakeman of Chicago, Ill. and Timothy Maynard of Lansing.

The bride wore a floor length gown of Ivory peau de soie and Alencon lace, embellished with seed pearls. The bodice was designed with a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves, and an empire waistline highlighted with lace appliques. The hem of the A-line skirt and the Watteau train were appliqued with the matching Alencon lace. Her headpiece was a pillbox of ivory peau de soie, lace and pearls attached to an elbow length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

The maid of honor wore an American Beauty Red Velvet floor length gown with a scoop neckline, empire waistline, elbow length sleeves and A-line skirt. The bridesmaids wore Emerald Green Velvet floor length gowns styled similar to the maid of honor. Their headpieces were of red and white carnations with sprigs of green. They carried matching bouquets of red and white carnations.

The bride's mother selected a three - piece double wool knit suit of dark aquamarine with jeweled highlights on the jacket and matching accessories. Mrs. Fruch wore a double wool knit dress of plum color and matching accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

Alan Dotsch and Roland Dotsch, brothers of the bride, sang hymns for the low Mass ceremony. Mrs. Paul Grindel of Owasa was organist. Ave Maria was sung as the bride placed a single rose at the Nativity Crib.

A reception was held at St. John's Hall in Garden from 4-8 p.m. with a Buffet Supper for 200 guests. The hall was decorated in holiday colors. Following a wedding trip to New Orleans the couple will make their home at 2225 Schroeder, Dubuque, Iowa. The bride is a 1962 graduate of Holy Name High School in Escanaba and received her degree in Nursing from St. Scholastica College in Duluth, Minn. She was a member of the Alpha Tau Delta Nursing Sorority. The bridegroom graduated from Dallas High School in 1958 and received his degree in Forestry from Iowa State University in Ames, Iowa in 1963.
